

WORLD

HEALTH DAY

7th

APRIL

WORLD HEALTH DAY

World Health Day is celebrated every year on April 7. Each year is dedicated to a different disease. Health is one of the basic human rights and every person in every part of the world must have access to quality health services regardless of their financial situation. Even today at least 50% of the world's population still does not have full coverage of basic health services.

Jason Kalligeros

World Health Day

Every year on April 7, World Health Day is celebrated all over the world and focuses on important public health problems . Health is one of the basic human rights and every person in every place in the world should have access to. Quality health care services must be accessible to people both rich and poor. The theme of World Health Day in 2021 is: "Together we can make a fairer and healthier world for everyone."

ALEX GREKAS

NICOLAS

WORLD HEALTH DAY

Every year on April 7, World Health Day is celebrated, which focuses on important public health problems that concern the world.

April 7 is the "birth" date in 1948 of the World Health Organization (WHO), a specialized United Nations organization on health.

The theme of World Health Day 2021 is: "Together we can achieve a fairer and healthier world."

Health is one of the basic human rights and every person in every part of the world must have access to quality health services regardless of their financial situation.

- Τι πρέπει να κάνω για να είμαι υγιής;
- Παίζω το sudoku της υγείας
- Βρίσκω λέξεις σχετικές με την υγεία

